

Virtual Information Security Officer

Information Security has never been more important, regardless of industry. But when it comes to finance, it's crucial. In fact, the FFIEC is now requiring ALL financial institutions to have an Information Security Officer. Finding the right person with the correct qualifications can be overwhelming, let alone being able to afford that full-time person. Don't stress over finding and committing to a full-time Information Security Officer. Use one of ours!

The Virtual Information Security Officer (VISO) will ensure your company is meeting the ever-changing regulatory requirements and will be the liaison to the auditors to minimize disruptions to your staff.
